about public affairs

Complete in this Folio is a series of nine interview discussions on the work of Sigmund Freud. The interviewee, Dr. Erich Fromm, and the discussions cover Freud's ideas on childhood, parental roles, authority and its relation to democracy, the mechanics of consumption, and religion. We believe that you will find the series highly enlightening.

about music

Once again we are presenting The Ring of the Nibelung, Richard Wagner's giant tetralogy of music dramas, complete as performed at the 1962 Bayreuth Festival. The productions are directed by Rudolf Kempe, with a superb cast of soloists too lengthy to print here. As fair warning, we suggest that you consult an inexpensive paperback book containing the complete English translation by Stewart Robb of The Ring of the Nibelung, published under that name and available at bookstores. Check the program highlights box on page 5 for the exact times of broadcast.

about KPFK

We wish to voice our deep appreciation to Dr. Robert Trotter, who has been KPFK's music director for the past three years. He has taken an indefinite leave of absence from the station, due to his increased responsibilities at UCLA, where he was recently appointed Chairman of the Music Department. Dr. Trotter has contributed immeasurably to KPFK, through his special programs, as well as through his guidance in the development of music programming. Lois Baum, who has worked with Dr. Trotter at KPFK since 1960, is acting as department head.
